Re: Notice of Initiation of Investigation and Interim Measures - EAPA Cons. Case 8210

Dear Representatives of the Above-Referenced Entities:

This letter is to inform you that U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) has commenced a formal investigation of Chirag International (Chirag), Everest Industrial Corporation (Everest Industrial), Honey Jain, KAG EXIM Inc. (KAG EXIM), Kapson India (Kapson), LH Dottie Company (LH Dottie), OCM Inc. (OCM), Stelfast Inc. (Stelfast), Nuovo International LLC (Nuovo International), Mankuj Jindal, Gap Trading Corp. (Gap Trading), Lindstrom LLC (Lindstrom), Nuts & Bolts Inc. (Nuts & Bolts), and Bee Dee Cycle Industries (Bee Dee Cycle) (collectively, the Importers) under Title IV, Section 421 of the Trade Facilitation and Trade Enforcement Act of 2015, commonly referred to as the Enforce and Protect Act (EAPA). CBP is investigating whether the Importers evaded the antidumping (AD) duty order on carbon and alloy steel threaded rod from India (case number A-533-887) when importing the covered merchandise into the United States.¹ CBP has imposed interim measures because there is reasonable suspicion that the Importers entered merchandise covered by the AD Order into the customs territory of the United States through evasion.²

Period of Investigation

Pursuant to 19 C.F.R. § 165.2, entries covered by an EAPA investigation are those “entries of allegedly covered merchandise made within one year before the receipt of an allegation...” Entry is defined as “the entry, or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption, of merchandise in the customs territory of the United States.”³ CBP acknowledged receipt of the properly filed allegation against the Importers by U.S. Department of Commerce on September 9, 2025.^{4,5} 19 C.F.R. § 165.2 also states that “at its discretion, CBP may also investigate other entries of covered merchandise” outside of the period one year prior to receipt of an allegation under 19 C.F.R. § 165.11 through the pendency of the investigation. Accordingly, CBP will investigate entries imported from November 2, 2023, the date Commerce published the final results of the 2021-2022 administrative review of the AD Order, through the pendency of the investigation, and this will be the period of investigation (POI).^{6,7}

Initiation

CBP will initiate an investigation if it determines that “{t}he information provided in the allegation...reasonably suggests that the covered merchandise has been entered for consumption into the customs territory of the United States through evasion.”⁸ Evasion is defined as “the ³ See 19 U.S.C. § 1517(a)(4); see also 19 C.F.R. § 165.1.

⁴ See Email from CBP, “EAPA Cases 8210 & 8226-8238: Receipt of Properly Filed Request for Investigation,” dated September 9, 2025.

⁵ While a federal agency may request an investigation under 19 C.F.R. § 165.14, an “allegation” is specifically defined as a filing by an “interested party” under 19 C.F.R. § 165.11, and 19 C.F.R. § 165.14(e) explicitly states that a federal agency is not a party to the investigation. Further, under 19 C.F.R. § 165.14(e), a federal agency will neither receive official notice of developments after CBP’s receipt of the request for an investigation nor will it receive service of any documents filed by interested parties.

⁶ See 19 C.F.R. § 165.2.

⁷ On November 2, 2023, Commerce published the final results of the 2021-2022 administrative review, establishing a cash deposit rate of 2.37 percent (later revised in October 2024) for the producers/exporters identified in the allegation. See Memorandum to the File, Supplemental Information for the Administrative Record of EAPA Cons. Case 8210, dated October 30, 2025 (Memorandum to the File) at Attachments 1 and 2.

⁸ See 19 C.F.R. § 165.15(b).

entry of covered merchandise into the customs territory of the United States for consumption by means of any document or electronically transmitted data or information, written or oral statement, or act that is material and false, or any omission that is material, and that results in any cash deposit or other security or any amount of applicable antidumping or countervailing duties being reduced or not being applied with respect to the covered merchandise.”⁹ Thus, the allegation must reasonably suggest not only that merchandise covered by an AD and/or countervailing duty (CVD) order was entered into the customs territory of the United States by the importer alleged to be evading, but also that such entry was made with a material false statement or act, or material omission, that resulted in the reduction or avoidance of applicable AD and/or CVD cash deposits or other security.

On August 12, 2025, Commerce submitted Requests for Investigation alleging evasion of the AD Order by Bee Dee Cycle, Chirag, Everest Industrial, Gap Trading, Honey Jain, KAG EXIM, Kapson, LH Dottie, Lindstrom, Mankuj Jindal, Nuovo International, Nuts & Bolts, OCM, and Stelfast.¹⁰ Specifically, Commerce alleged that the Importers entered merchandise covered by the scope of the AD Order for consumption into the customs territory of the United States through evasion by claiming the “all-others” cash deposit rate of 0.00 percent for entries of covered merchandise, rather than the applicable manufacturer/exporter-specific rates in effect.¹¹

Description of the Alleged Evasion Scheme and Supporting Evidence

Commerce provided CBP data covering the period April 1, 2024 through August 1, 2025 showing entries by the Importers of Indian-origin carbon and alloy steel threaded rod.¹² The data contain specifics for each entry such as the 10-digit AD case number (A-533-887-000 denotes entities subject to the all-others rate), the identities of the foreign exporter and manufacturer, and the published manufacturer/exporter-specific cash deposit rates that should have applied to the entries.¹³ The manufacturers/exporters identified by Commerce in its Requests for Investigation and reflected in the import data include [Company Names

].¹⁴ The cash deposit rate in effect during the period for these companies was 2.37 percent until October 15, 2024, when a revised rate of 10.94

percent was established (with the exception of [Company Name], which remained subject to the prior rate).^{15,16}

To quantify the impact of the alleged evasion scheme, Commerce used the CBP entry summary data to calculate an estimated amount of unpaid AD duties for April 1, 2024 through August 1, 2025.¹⁷ To do so, Commerce multiplied the applicable company-specific AD cash deposit rates in effect at the time of entry by the value of the imported merchandise.¹⁸

Initiation Assessment

In assessing the basis for these Requests for Investigation, CBP found that the information provided therein reasonably suggested that the Importers entered merchandise covered by the AD Order into the customs territory of the United States through evasion. Specifically, the Requests for Investigation indicate that the Importers entered Indian-origin carbon and alloy steel threaded rod while failing to identify the correct company-specific AD case number/cash deposit rate.¹⁹ The CBP entry data provided by Commerce shows that between April 1, 2024 and August 1, 2025, the Importers consistently claimed the all-others cash deposit rate of 0.00 percent; this

See also Request for Investigation at Exhibit 1.

¹⁶ Commerce did not initiate an administrative review with respect to manufacturer/exporter [Company Name] for the 2022-2023 review period. Therefore, the cash deposit rate established for [Company Name] from the prior 2021-2022 administrative review remained in effect. occurred even though there were published manufacturer/exporter-specific rates in effect that should have applied to entries of covered merchandise, thus avoiding the payment of applicable AD duty deposits.^{20,21}

For the reasons previously set forth, on September 26, 2025, CBP initiated investigations²² under the authority of 19 U.S.C. § 1517(b)(1) into imports by the Importers, which were allegedly entered for consumption into the customs territory of the United States through evasion.²³

Consolidation of the Investigations

CBP consolidated EAPA investigations 8210, 8226, 8227, 8228, 8229, 8230, 8231, 8232, 8233, 8234, 8235, 8236, 8237, and 8238 on the Importers into a single investigation under EAPA Consolidated Case 8210 at the time of initiation and will maintain a single administrative record.²⁴ At its discretion, CBP may consolidate multiple allegations against one or more importers into a single investigation, pursuant to 19 C.F.R. § 165.13(b), which sets forth the factors that CBP may consider in consolidating multiple allegations. The factors that CBP may consider include, but are not limited to, whether the multiple allegations involve: 1) relationships between the importers; 2) similarity of covered merchandise; 3) similarity of AD/CVD orders; and 4) overlap in time periods of entries of covered merchandise.²⁵ The Importers in these 14 investigations have entered the same covered merchandise subject to the same AD Order.²⁶ In addition, the Importers' entries overlap during a similar period of investigation.²⁷ Because all but one of these factors are present in these investigations, CBP consolidated them at the time of initiation and will provide notice pursuant to 19 C.F.R. § 165.13(c). We note that the deadlines for the consolidated investigation will be set from the date of initiation for EAPA case 8210, which is September 26, 2025.

Interim Measures

Not later than 90 calendar days after initiating an investigation under EAPA, CBP will decide based on the record of the investigation if there is reasonable suspicion that merchandise covered by an AD or CVD order was entered into the United States through evasion.²⁸ CBP need only have sufficient evidence to support a reasonable suspicion that the Importers alleged to be evading entered merchandise covered by an AD or CVD order into the United States by a material false statement or act, or material omission, that resulted in the reduction or avoidance of applicable AD or CVD cash deposits or other security.²⁹ If reasonable suspicion exists, CBP will impose interim measures pursuant to 19 U.S.C. § 1517(e) and 19 C.F.R. § 165.24. As explained below, CBP is imposing interim measures on Bee Dee Cycle, Chirag, Everest Industrial, Gap Trading, Honey Jain, KAG EXIM, Kapson, LH Dottie, Lindstrom, Mankuj Jindal, Nuovo International, Nuts & Bolts, OCM, and Stelfast because there is reasonable suspicion that these Importers entered covered merchandise into the United States through evasion by failing to identify the correct manufacturer/exporter-specific cash deposit rate.³⁰

²⁰ See Requests for Investigation at Exhibit 1.

CBP Data Review and Document Image System Documents

CBP reviewed data in its systems regarding entries made by the Importers of merchandise classified under the HTS numbers included in the AD Order.³¹ CBP also examined documentation (e.g., invoices, packing lists, Blanket Statements of Non-Reimbursement, CBP Form 7501s, etc.) included in the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE) for entries by the Importers under these HTS numbers.

- Importer Bee Dee Cycle

Bee Dee Cycle's entries of covered merchandise during the POI designate [Company Names] as the manufacturer/exporter.³² For all type 03 entries submitted on or after October 22, 2024, the correct company-specific AD case number (A-533-887-[#]) was applied.³³ Prior to that date, both the company-specific and all-others (A-533-887-000) AD case numbers were used.³⁴ For example, Bee Dee Cycle claimed the all-others cash deposit rate of 0.00 percent for an entry in August 2024 but the company-specific rate of 10.94 percent for one in July 2024.³⁵ On July 17, 2024, a managing partner of this importer signed a Blanket Statement of Non-Reimbursement identifying [Company Name] as the manufacturer/exporter yet referencing the all-others AD case number.³⁶ Overall, the all-others (A-533-887-000) AD case number was used for multiple entries during the POI.³⁷

Analysis

An overall review of the CBP entry summary data and associated documentation within ACE confirms a consistent pattern during the POI of misreporting the 10-digit AD case numbers by the Importers.⁹⁴ The Importers repeatedly applied the A-533-887-000 all-others case number (with its corresponding 0.00 percent cash deposit rate) across many of the reviewed entries during the POI, in place of the correct company-specific rates.⁹⁵ As a consequence of this misapplication of the AD case number and cash deposit rates, the Importers avoided payment of applicable AD duties.

Specifically, the data shows that Everest Industrial, Gap Trading, Kapson, Mankuj Jindal, Nuovo International (for imports from [Company Name]), and Stelfast (for imports from [Company Name]) claimed the all-others cash deposit rate of 0.00 percent for every type 03 entry during the POI.⁹⁶ Other importers — including Bee Dee Cycle, Chirag, Honey Jain, KAG EXIM, OCM, Nuovo International (for imports from [Company Name]), and Stelfast (for imports from [Company Name]) — transitioned to the correct company-specific AD case numbers and cash deposit rates only after an extended period of incorrect reporting.⁹⁷

The available records in ACE for entries of covered merchandise further demonstrate that the Importers declared merchandise using an incorrect AD case number. For example, Bee Dee Cycle, Chirag, and Kapson all cited the all-others AD case number on their Blanket Statements of Non-Reimbursement, despite identifying specific manufacturers/exporters with their own AD case designations, which further illustrates their repetitive failure to apply the correct rate.⁹⁸ In addition, Nuovo International continued to use the all-others cash deposit rate even after receiving a CBP Form CF-28 requesting compliance documentation and after filing a [document] for another entry. Similarly, LH Dottie filed a [document] to address issues related to [description], which were corrected, but failed to modify the AD case

Enactment of Interim Measures

Based on the record evidence described above, CBP determines that reasonable suspicion exists that Bee Dee Cycle, Chirag, Everest Industrial, Gap Trading, Honey Jain, KAG EXIM, Kapson, LH Dottie, Lindstrom, Mankuj Jindal, Nuovo International, Nuts & Bolts, OCM, and Stelfast entered covered merchandise into the United States through evasion by failing to identify the correct company-specific AD case numbers/cash deposit rates, and in so doing avoided the payment of AD duty cash deposits. Therefore, CBP is imposing interim measures on the Importers' entries of carbon and alloy steel threaded rod from India pursuant to this investigation.¹⁰⁰ Specifically, in accordance with 19 U.S.C. § 1517(e)(1)-(3), CBP shall:

- 1) suspend the liquidation of each unliquidated entry of such covered merchandise that entered on or after September 26, 2025, the date of the initiation of the investigation;
- 2) pursuant to the Commissioner's authority under 19 U.S.C. § 1504(b), extend the period for liquidating each unliquidated entry of such covered merchandise that entered before September 26, 2025, the date of the initiation of the investigations; and
- 3) pursuant to the Commissioner's authority under 19 U.S.C. § 1623, take such additional measures as the Commissioner determines necessary to protect the revenue of the United States, including requiring a single transaction bond or additional security or the posting of a cash deposit with respect to such covered merchandise.¹⁰¹

In addition, for future entries, CBP will require live entry, reject any entry summaries that do not comply with live entry, and require refile of entries that are within the entry summary rejection period. CBP may also evaluate the Importers' continuous bonds to determine their sufficiency. Finally, CBP may pursue additional enforcement actions, as provided by law, consistent with 19 U.S.C. § 1517(h).

For future submissions or factual information that you submit to CBP pursuant to this EAPA investigation, please provide a business confidential version and public version, with public summaries, to CBP via the EAPA Portal (aka the EAPA case management system (CMS)): <https://eapallegations.cbp.gov>.¹⁰² Documents uploaded to the CMS will constitute service on the parties to this investigation,¹⁰³ and all administrative record documents will be available via the CMS.
